Message from District Governor

Dear fellow Rotarians

The past often shapes the present - and so it is with the traditions of Rotary. The annals of R.I. District 3230, I thought, would surely serve to inspire and encourage our Rotarians. I was lucky to find a very enthusiastic and committed Rotarian - to take on this laborious task - none other than the well known Rtn. Arun K. Ramchandar of Ranipet with 34 yrs in Rotary - and active at that !

Arun not only chaired the Committee but took upon himself the responsibility of Compiling and Editing the District History. I felt that this book should reach out to Three Thousand Six Hundred Rotarians of this District and others who would appreciate the wealth of our District History. To make it a reality.

It is not an easy task to compile information from 1929 till date and I am thankful to the various senior Rotarians and PDGs who helped provide valuable information.

My only request to you my fellow Rotarians is to read this District History which I am sure will make you proud of our achievements and our rich tradition of service to humanity. Let us "Lead the way" to continue to serve the community as best we can through the wonderful medium of Rotary.

I convey my appreciation & congratulations to each of you who toiled to make this maiden venture a reality. I truly appreciate the messages received from R.I. President, R.I. President Elect, R.I. President Nominee, and R.I. Director Elect.

I am sure you will treasure this book and rejoice over the Past and Present.

Yours in Rotary

J B Kamdar

To The Committee Members
Rotary District 3230

Dear Fellow Rotarians

It is my pleasure to congratulate you for your efforts in bringing out a book, highlighting the history of Rotary of your District.

Your commitment of enthusiasm and participation raises your club's level of service and fellowship. It is through committed Rotarians like you that our organization has grown from one small club to a vast international network of volunteers making a real difference in their own communities and far beyond.

2006-07 is the year when I am calling Rotarians to Lead the Way. I ask you to lead in the Rotary way, by living as a role model of tolerance, unselfishness, and integrity.

This year, I ask you to focus on strengthening your clubs in three ways. I ask you to make sure there is strong and effective club administration, the cost of membership gives good value, and that your club runs a variety of productive local and international service projects.

Please join me this year and Lead the Way to a better future through Rotary.

Kind Regards,

W.B. (Bill) Boyd
President RI, 2006-07

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Dear DG J.B. Kamdar,

I was simply delighted to read your communication that D3230 was embarking on the preparation of a substantial history of Rotary in your district. I am a strong believer that, in order to succeed, Rotary must be ever cognizant of its past. Given the growth of your communities, the changes in technology and the tremendous needs that can be found everywhere in the world, it is often difficult to find the time. However, if we are to be successful, we must stop and recognize what has been accomplished in the past in order to better plan for the future.

I would hope that thanks to the committee currently be chaired by Rotarian Arun K. Ramchandar, that the distinguished history of the accomplishments of Rotarians, Rotary Clubs and Rotary District will be captured and used by both current and future Rotary Leaders, of this very important part of the Rotary world. I have had the privilege, because of my several visits to South India, of knowing many of the Rotarians in your district and the surrounding districts and in particular, the many devoted past district governors who have served so faithfully over many years. Many of these still reside and participate actively in your programs and should be recognized. However there are others, who are no longer with us but hopefully the memory of their work will not be forgotten through the chapters of this history book.

This indeed is a very worthy undertaking, so I'm pleased to offer my congratulations and best wishes to all involved in this important project. I took forward to reading this book when it is finished and hopefully having an opportunity to personally meet and congratulate the authors on a job well done.

Yours Sincerely

Wilf Wilkinson

Dear DG J B :

Greetings to my fellow Rotarians in the District 3230.

Happy to hear that a comprehensive history of the newly formed district is being published. This book is a great collection of records for the local Rotarians in back tracking the foot steps of their forerunners whose conviction and compassion overcame difficulties in establishment successful institution of voluntary service organization. Also it will, no doubt, contribute greatly in inspiring others who are venturous to conceive new clubs in yet uncharted areas of the world for Rotary.

Congratulations to you and the committee chair Rtn. Arun K. Ramchandar and its members in their relentless effort in making this possible. Sincerely hope that you will continue to Lead the Way.

Yours in Rotary.

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Dear Dist. Gov. J.B. Kamdar,

History of any Institution reveals the strength of the institution and its relevance. It also is an inspirational tool for the members to promote better services and relevant action.

It is, therefore, very relevant to publish history of Rotary in south so that all Rotarians can not only learn something but pass on this learning to all Rotarians and their families.

Rotary's strength is in its membership and the best way to promote membership growth is through motivation of existing member to bring in young energetic learned and enthusiastic new members. What better way to achieve this than through a colourful history of Rotary? This will surely inform all Rotarians on the need to spread Rotary and relevant look - back into the past is the best teacher of all Rotarians.

Rotary thrives because of the many success stories that are often forgotten. Publishing a history of Rotary's quest for service and peace and of the great work done by outstanding Rotarians will be one of the most potent tool for taking Dist. 3230 to new heights.

Chairman's Message...

I was entrusted with the responsibility to bring out the District History for the first time by our District Governor J.B. Kamdar.

To my surprise I found information on various activities of our Rotary District over the years and about people involved. All I have done is to compile, add and Edit.

We wanted to bring out a book that will be useful to Rotarians as well as persons interested in Rotary Activities. We wanted it to be brief, readable and Quotable. If there are errors and omissions it is entirely unintentional.

I have acknowledged elsewhere the help received by me from Rotarians in bringing out the District History. I must thank Rtn. M.K. Kannan, Past President, Rotary club of Madras South for his invaluable help to me.

District Governor J.B. Kamdar after going through the 'rough draft' decided that a copy of this should reach every Rotarian of this Rotary District, so that they will know of our Proud Legacy.

Salutations to so many great Rotarians of Yesterday and Today.

I am proud that I belong to this Rotary International District of 3230.

ROTARY...AT A GLANCE

Rotary International was the FIRST Service Club organization in the world started in 1905, by Paul P. Harris. "Rotary is an organization of business and professional persons united worldwide who provide humanitarian service, encourage high ethical standards in all Vocations and help build goodwill and peace in the world".

The first four members were:

Paul P. Harris	- Lawyer
Gustavus E. Loehr	- Mining Engineer
Silverster Schiele	- Coal Dealer
Hirman E. Shorey	- Merchant Tailor

The first meeting of the club took place on February 23, 1905. Paul Harris named the new Club "Rotary" because the members met in rotation in their various places of business. The movement spread to Canada and Great Britain making it international in scope. In 1912 the name was changed to Rotary International.

The motto of Rotary International, adopted in 1912-13 is "Service above Self - He profits most who serves best".

Paul P. Harris, the father of the Rotary Movement was born on April 19, 1868. When he passed away on January 27, 1947, he left behind for mankind, a rich legacy of fellowship and brotherhood for International understanding and service to humanity. Today the seed he sowed in 1905 has blossomed into a large tree covering 168 geographical regions with over 32,000 clubs with a membership of over 1,220,000 in 529 Districts.

Given here are a few excerpts from his speeches and which are as much valid in today's world as they were during his life time.

1. This is a changing world, we must be prepared to change with it. The story of Rotary will have to be written again and again.
2. On Fellowship: "Fellowship is wonderful, it illuminates life's pathway, spreads good cheer and is worth a high price.
3. On Friendship : "Friendship was the foundation rock on which Rotary was built and tolerance is the element which holds it together".
4. On Business : "In the Rotary plan, business is an important part of life but it is not the all of life. He whose vision extends no further than his field of business is to be pitied."
5. On 'Peace' : 'I have no hesitation in saying that world peace could be achieved and made permanent if reared on Rotary's firm foundation of friendliness, tolerance, and usefulness"
6. On 'Rotary Democracy': "The democratic spirit is the very life spark of Rotary. Rotary must never be permitted to become merely a rich man's club. With the democracy of our organization kept pure, we may hope to attain hitherto undreamed of heights in the elevation of business standards."
7. On Moral values : "... Sacrifice, devotion, honour, truth, sincerity, love: these are homely virtues characteristic of good old-fashioned homes."

8. On “Working Together”: “it has been the way of Rotary to focus thought upon matter in which they are in disagreement. Rotary has satisfactorily demonstrated the fact that friendship can easily handle national and religious boundary lines.”

The “Four Way Test” devised by Past R.I. President Herbert J. Taylor was officially adopted in 1943. The main purpose of this is to cause people to think right, and for self-analysis. The famous 4 questions have become a time-tested measuring stick for ethical thinking and action.

The Four Way Test of the things we think, say or do:

1. Is it the TRUTH ?
2. Is it fair to all concerned ?
3. Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIP ?
4. Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned ?

The symbol of Rotary is the Rotary wheel, founded in 1924.

R.I. Convention meets once a year in different countries.

In 1945, forty-nine Rotarians helped in drafting the U.N. Charter.

Since 1989, women members have been permitted officially into Rotary.

Rotary has now returned to many East European Countries and former Soviet Union. Rotary in China in the near future is possible.

Rotary has spent over $600 million towards eradication of Polio worldwide. This programme was in collaboration with WHO and UNICEF.

The Official Magazine of Rotary International "THE ROTARIAN" was started in 1911.

The Interact movement of Rotary International started in 1962 for School Students has over 10,841 Clubs in 120 countries with a membership of over 249,343.

The Rotaract movement started in 1968 for College Students and later Community based has 7073 Rotaract Clubs in 157 countries, with a membership of over 162,679.

In 1971 RYLA (Rotary Youth Leadership Award) was adopted.

Rotary Community Corps, originally started in 1985, has 6206 corps and has membership over 142,738 members, spread over 70 countries.

Rotary International Head Quarters is situated at One Rotary Center, 1560, Sherman Avenue, Evanston Illinois 60201, U.S.A. and has branches in most countries, including in India at Thapar House, 124 Janpath, New Delhi 110 001.

ROTARY PERSONALITIES....

Sir Md. Usman K.C.I.E., M.L.C. a contemporary of Sir C.P. Ramaswamy Ayyar in college, was officiating Governor of Madras Presidency, Member Viceregal Council in the British India & Vice Chancellor Madras University. He was the first Indian to be President of Rotary Club of Madras in 1935-36.

JAMES WHEELER DAVIDSON

Jim Wheeler Davidson, born on June 14, 1872 at Southern Minnesotan town named Austin can be considered as "Macro Polo of Rotary." After an active Journalistic and Consular Life in the Far East, Jim and his wife Lillian settled down in Calgary, Canada. He joined Rotary Club of Calgary in 1914.

Col. Layton Ralston of Halifax, Novoscotia was named as Rotary's Ambassador Extraordinary and he took Jim as companion for organizing clubs at Melbourne, Sydney, Wellington and Auckland.

As Rotary International was approaching its Silver Anniversary, Jim Wheeler Davidson was to undertake the task of strengthening the chain of clubs that stretched between Europe and Japan.

On 23rd August 1928 accompanied by his wife Lillian and daughter Marjory as Hon. General Commissioner of Rotary International, he sailed from Montreal, Canada. They took the route Turkey, Greece, Egypt and Syria where Rotary Clubs were started in Constantinople, Athens, Cairo and Baghdad. From Basra he with his family sailed to Bombay and after visiting Delhi, Lahore and Calcutta left for Madras by train on 23rd April 1929. Arriving in the capital of Madras Presidency two days after, Jim had his first meeting at Madras with C.E. Wood of Parry & Co., H.E.P. Hearson of Bombay Co., R. Kay of Binny & Co., J.W. Macfarlane of South Indian Export Co. and F.E. James (who later became Sir Fredick James) of United Planters Association.

The organisation meeting of Rotary Club of Madras was held on 10th May 1929 with 30 charter Members all of whom were expatriates. C.G. Armstrong, Chairman of Madras Port Trust was the Charter President and Chance Morton the first Honorary Secretary. From Madras Jim & Family moved to Burma, Singapore, Hong Kong, Korea and Japan ultimately returning to Vancouver in March 1931. He knew when he left Canada that he did not have more than three years to live, but still completed the assignments of Extension in 30 months and passed away on July 18, 1933. after a protracted illness. As Rotary International was not all flush with funds at that time, Jim had to spend almost a Quarter of Million Dollars of his own money which was neither expected nor replaced.

Rotary Founder Paul Harris in his book "My Road to Rotary" writes "Davidson undertook the organisation of Clubs in Southern Europe, Egypt, India, the Strait settlements, Syria, China and Japan, thus completing the round the world chain. This trip of Davidson took three years. Jim left America with full understanding that he has not long to live. He lasted until the completion of his task but died soon after his return. He worked without compensation".

On his passing away his early companion Col. Ralston wrote "I learnt more about Rotary during these three weeks with Jim on the boat than my whole of eight years membership previously". Lillian, his wife at the age of 92 in 1972 was living in Delta near Vancouver with her daughter Marjory (Mrs. C. John Abramson) Some years ago at a R.I. convention Marjory was honoured by Rotary International. James Wheeler Davidson has to be admired for his determination, pioneering spirit and the ambition to spread Rotary in other Countries.

The Rotary Club of Madras in particular and Rotary Clubs in general owe a lot to this 'Rotary Marco Polo', James Wheeler Davidson. What we talk as family movement in Rotary now, was practised by Davidson in late 1920 s by involving his wife and only daughter for the Rotary Extension work.

ROTARY PERSONALITIES....

R.K. Shanmugam Chetty - Charter President of R.C. of Cochin sponsored by Rotary Club of Madras in 1937. He was then Dewan of Cochin. Sri R.K. Shankugam Chetty became the first Finance Minister in the Central Cabinet headed by Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru.

Sir C.P. Ramaswamy Ayyar, a multifaceted personality a successful lawyer, member of Governor's Council, briefly Viceregal Council, Dewan of Travancore, later Vice Chancellor of Annamalai University and Benares Hindu University. He became Rotary Governor from R.C. of Nilgris. (1952-53) at the age of 73. (B: 12.11.1879).

FREDRICK E. JAMES

Sir FREDERICK E. JAMES (he was knighted in 1941 by His Imperial Majesty King George VI) was no stranger to Rotary. He was the President of Rotary Club of Calcutta in 1924-25. He served as General Secretary of the YM.C.A. Calcutta from 1920 to 1928. F.E. James came to Madras as Vice President of United Planters Association of South India. He helped James Wheeler Davidson in the formation of the Rotary club of Madras on 10th May 1929, with thirty Charter members, all expatriates.

F.E. James was the representative of the European Commercial and Planning Community in Madras and Central Legislatures for over 20 years. Upto 1931-32, Rotary clubs in India were non-districted. From 1932 to 1935 clubs in India, Burma and Ceylon were grouped under provisional District 'A'. On 1st July 1935, District 89 was formed with clubs in Afghanistan; Burma; Ceylon and undivided India. The first District Governor was Sir Fredrick E. James (1935-36). Sri Phiroz Sethna followed him the next year. Sir F.E. James had to be once again at the saddle due to the sudden death of Phiroz Sethna.

The Delhi Club was revived in 1939, thanks to the efforts of Sir Frederick James. He was the first Rotary Governor from India. Prior to becoming the first District Governor he was the first Director from India to R.I. in the year 1933-34. The first conference of Rotary District was in Madras in 1936-37 under the governorship of F.E. James, which had a registration of 63. Haji M. Eusoff was R.I. President's Representative to this conference.

The District conference of District 88 were held at Calcutta, and had one of its conferences in Jamshedpur with Nitish C. Laharry as District Governor (Later he became the first Indian to hold the position of R.I. President in 1962-63). The R.I. President's representative for this conference was Sir Frederick James.

Back to his country England, he served as Managing Director, Tatas Ltd, London and died in Yafford, Isle of Wright, on January 18, 1971. Sir Frederick E. James has contributed a great deal to the growth of Rotary in India in the early years.

Dr. P.V. Cherian, an eminent E.N.T Specialist, Member of the Legislative Council, Madras later became the Governor of State of Maharashtra.

D.C. Kothari, well-known Industrialist joined R.C. of Madras at the age of 24 (1935), President at the age of 35, District Governor at the age of 45 and he was recognized at a District Conference for his 50 years contribution as a member of Rotary Club of Madras.

THE SPIRIT OF ROTARY

PDG. Rtn. S.R. Govindarajan, RI District 3230

One summer evening of 1960, I was taking a walk in a park with my very dear and affectionate former student Ramakrishna Raja, who had by then blossomed into a prosperous Industrialist and was based in the Guindy Industrial Estate. He casually mentioned to me that he was joining a “Rotary Club” to be organized by the then Rotary Governor K. Gopal Rao. Though an informed academic and considerable knowledge of the polity, my understanding of the reputed non government service organization, Rotary International, was far from complimentary to it. In fact I had formed a vague impression that the clubs of this organization were “talking lunch-shops of the rich and mighty” who spend an hour every week on gossip; and when asked by the rulers of the Raj, arrogantly and ostentatiously threw a few thousand rupees on what was grandiosely advertised as “service”, during natural calamities and birthdays of Royalty. I was shocked that Ram was joining one such Club and I did not hide my annoyance. However, Ram’s expository skills and my impeccable faith in his sense of judgement combined to knock out my incredible stupidity in half an hour and my natural proclivity for “service” made me ask him innocently if I could also join! This was perhaps an embarrassment that Ram had not anticipated! For a few moments he felt stunned at the desire of this academic, with perhaps limited resources, belonging to what was always considered a cynical intellectual community with a well-recognized “anti-elitist” stance, wanting to climb to the seventh heaven through a rope-ladder! Neither could he slap me in the face and say “forget it” ‘ and so he cleverly promised to “discuss” the matter with Governor Gopal Rao and get back to me. It was perhaps the Lord’s will that Gopal Rao should have deeper knowledge of my family and me personally than Ram presumably had at that stage! Gopal Rao was obviously quite enthused about “inviting me” which I understood later was the only way you could get into a Rotary Club. Gopal Rao however cautioned Ram to explain to me the hazards, the basic obligations and structural hurdles in the process of invitation, which of course Ram did. A few days later he called me excitedly and told me that I would become a Charter Member of the Rotary Club of Madras South! Now it was my turn to be stunned and I was bewildered at the very thought of getting into an association whose compatibility with my psyche was still unclear. But the die had been cast and I became a “Rotarian” in a week’s time. Little did I realise at that time that my decision that day would take me through a gorgeous landscape and open out vistas which I did not even know, existed. Now, what did I find in my Rotary life that justifies this hyperbolic ecstasy?

My first meeting with Rotarians in the Library Hall of the Guindy Industrial Estate, got me that first view of the vista I referred to. Here were twenty four intelligent men who had risen to affluence by sheer hard work, genuinely anxious to make friends and serve society in coherence, totally unconscious of their social and financial success and ready to build an extended family perhaps more firm than that founded on blood and kinship. Almost the first dictum that Governor Gopal Rao gave us was to start addressing each other by our first names and warmly shake each other’s hand; to make harmony and fellowship a part of our inner consciousness; to take Rotary not as a mere association of affluent men, but as a Way of Life, untrammelled by caste, creed, colour of skin or pedigree. His second affirmation was even more unique. Every one of the assembled men was the Leader of his own profession or business, but not two men would belong to the same profession or business so that mundane matters would not interfere with our newly established coherence! In other words, I would be a part of a bouquet in which no two beautiful flowers would belong to the same genus nor have the same kind of aroma. That, let me assure you was, for me, a heavenly interface whose memory, even today, when I am in the last lap of my life, brings hope and joy, when the environment pushes me sometimes into despair and depression. I do not know if I am still within Rotary, but no force on earth can wrench Rotary from within me!

My mental attitude started changing and I began watching my every step, monitoring every action. I was scared of committing impropriety even in the little things that I did and was anxious to correct myself at once. Governor Gopal Rao had warned us of this and had attributed it to our coming under what he called the “Spirit of Rotary”. Believe me, even today that Spirit still haunts me.

As Head of an Educational Institution, I used to address my colleagues at the beginning of the term and warn them that every time they got into a class, fifty of sixty pairs of eyes kept peering at them with awe and holding them in great awe. To them, a Teacher was a model who could do no wrong. If it happened that the students noticed an act or behaviour that did not fit in with this image, there could be cultural disaster and not only the student but also the preceptor would collapse like a house of cards. The Spirit of Rotary brought in this perception into my everyday life. The message that I tried to give to my colleagues in my profession, Rotary gave to me much more lucidly and sometimes sends me into deep introspection.

Slowly I began to realise that my actions should not be tinged with impropriety, but perchance if it did, I had to correct myself at once. I started yearning for the Tuesday evening meetings, the Intercity Meetings, the fireside meetings, the fellowship picnics, the District Conferences and Institutes, the company of Rotarian families, et al, all of which were moving me into an Elysium that I had not anticipated at all.. The strength of this transformation will bear credibility if I tell you what happened three years later. The Territorial Limit of the Madras South Club was the geographical area “South” of the Adyar River.

In the course of my professional progress, I was invited to head an educational institution which unfortunately was situated “north” of the Adyar River. I had to accept that assignment for after all, Educational planning and Institution Building were my life mission. But by doing so, I crossed the Adyar river and ipso facto stepped out of my club territory and out of Rotary. R I Rules in those days did not permit compromises. The poignancy of the step was much deeper, for that year (1963-64), I was President of the South Club, having served a whole year as Secretary and got very close to every member and everyone in his family. In other words I was abruptly stepping out of thirty loving families that cared intensely for me and of which I had already become an integral part. I began to feel melancholy and distraught and a cheerless vacancy seemed to envelop me.

Though my passionate addiciton to my Acharya Dharma kept my professional efficiency intact, the spark within me seemed to have gone out. One great person noticed this change, the loss of buoyancy, the warmth and perpetual laughter. That person, alas no longer with us, a complete Rotarian, one who never let his affluence, his professional eminence or social stature ever manifest itself, was Rtn PDG M.V. Arunachalam. Even today I cannot explain to you why he decided to restore my sunshine. If I had lost the membership of one Rotary club, he set out to create a new Rotary Club for us, of course after careful analysis of the needs of the community, the availability of sound leadership material and satisfying the paradigms of RI. Thus was born the Rotary Club of Madras West and I was bestowed the honour of its Chartered Presidentship. That, my friends, was Rotary in action, sharing and caring. Sometimes I am told that the departure of great men like J.R. Metha, K.V.S., MV, Dr. C.R.R. Pillai, Dr. Sundararaman, R. Ratnam, V. Chidambaram and C.V. George, to their Heavenly Home in a rather short span of time, had dimmed the Spirit of Rotary. Somehow I do not agree with this. Like the Atman, that Sprit ignited nearly a century ago by four good men, can neither be destroyed by fire nor swallowed by floods. I do not deny that there have been onslaughts, but I believe that the Sprit always leads us from Darkness to Light, from Ignorance to Intelligence, from Decay to Resurgence.

I attended Jimmy Nilghiriya's District Conference in Colombo in 1967. The Conference, conducted in the Galle Face Hotel, against the gentle lappings of the back waters, with the gorgeous emerald background of the world-renowned Colombo Parks and a gentle breeze blowing across a fabulously decorated hall, was attended by a galaxy pervaded by a paradisiacal warmth, the like of which I had never seen since. But one speaker sounded an incongruous note of discord. This person was one of the most eminent citizens of Sri Lanka, a greatly repected journalist and an orator of very high calibre. But his speech that day was full of fire and brimstone, and his body language was totally out of tune with the gloriousness of the conference atmosphere. Perhaps Parke Nadesan had his reasons for his stance; he should have become the District Governor many years earlier, but somehow that did not happen. Parke, an ordinarily sweet companion, was on the platform, sweating and swearing and concluded his well argued case with the statement “if Sri Lanka does not get a Governorship within the next few years, Rotary in Sri Landa will die”. The audience sat stunned and Jimmy was feeling quite embarrassed. Somehow, his eyes sought me out and he beckoned me to speak. I too had not recovered from the recent shock and after a few observations on the subject - “Classification Principle” - I reverted to Parke’s speech and assured him that the strength of Rotary lay in generous, intelligent, committed “men” like Parke and not on a few Governorships which had mostly decorative value. I too became emotional and assured Parke that as long as the Sprit of Rotary was in the custody of men like him, “Rotary will never die in Sri Lanka or anywhere else in the world”. There was perceptible release of tension and at the end of my speech, Parke walked up to me and shook my hands, but just smiled, said nothing. Later, I went to the polling area where I saw one of Ceylon’s most eminent sons, PDG. Sir. Sangaram Pillai Pararajasihgham. He hugged me and said “I hope my son (that was Parke) will atleast now realise that the Sprit of Rotary is far too mighty to be destroyed by the presence or absence of a mere Governorship. Thank you very much". It was then that I realised that the Spirit of Rotary was a nectar which was made up of love, ethics, compassion and global commitment and that it was this Spirit that marked out a Rotarian from the rest. All good things that Rotarians do have for their inspiration, this Spirit of Rotary.

My essay has become too long. I must tell you this story. In May 1977, I landed up in Paris and the Airport bus took me to Porto Milo, a Centre where the most powerful and affluent men and women of France meet for every important event, from cultural bonanzas to International Conferences. But I was a lonely man, could not speak to anyone, had not the ghost of an idea of how to communicate and get to my modest hotel. Just then I saw a charming couple and noticed the Rotary Lapel pin on his coat. I could not tell him what I wanted. Obviously he was briskly walking to the Car Park and had meant to leave. He spoke a few words to his wife who read the name of the Hotel whose card I had. He smiled at me and seemed to ask "you, a Rotarian?". Within minutes he himself carried one of my baggages, asked his wife to carry the other and literally dragged me to his car. In ten minutes he took me to my Hotel, situated in a bye-lane of Champs Elyses, ordered for some coffee, left his wife to keep me company and vanished. Obviously he spoke to a friend who knew a Pondicherry Tamilian who had settled down in France. He came back, kept chattering away, of course in French, about the glory of France and the glory of Rotary but making me feel perfectly happy and relaxed. The Tamilian from Pondicherry arrived after sixty minutes during which time the French couple kept me company and when the Pondicherryan arrived, they gave him some instructions in French and left me after “profusely thanking me” for the opportunity -this I learnt from my new found Tamil companion. During the next three days the Tamilian was with me practically all the time, took me round Paris and its suburbs and appeared extremely happy at the opportunity for speaking Tamil for several hours! The extraordinary adventure ended with a most delicious French Dinner at the Samaritan Couple’s Villa when I was presented an exquisite crystal vase which I proudly keep in my drawing room. Now, how do you describe this exhibition of Spirit of Rotary? I have no words-no true Rotarian can, in fact.

The canvas of Rotary has expanded enormously during the last three decades. Qualitatively and quantitatively, Rotary Service has gained immense lustre. Activites have become multi-faceted and thousands of young and brilliant men (and women) have got deeply involved in its activities. Ths inspiration for all this mammoth growth is, I still belive, the SPIRIT OF ROTARY which will ultimately bring Peace and Harmony to this troubled Planet. For, this SPRIT OF ROTARY will continue to inspire generations of men and women and will last untill “the Sun gets cold, the Stars grow old and the leaves of the Book unfold”.

“The Rotary Foundation is not to build monuments of brick and stone. If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work on brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, if we imbue them with the full meaning of the spirit of Rotary... we are engraving on those tablets something that will brighten all eternity.”

Arch C. Klumph
R.I. President 1916-17

DISTRICTING

Rotary Clubs in India were non-districted. From 1932 to 1935 Clubs in India; Burma & Ceylon were grouped under provisional District 'A'.

On 1st July 1935 District 89 was formed with clubs in Afghanistan, Burma, Ceylon and undivided India. In 1939 Dist. 89 was bifurcated to create District 88 also which consisted of Afghanistan, Burma and part of undivided India. By the time India became Independent there were 71 Rotary Clubs (14 in Gujarat; 10 in Maharashtra; 10 in Utter Pradash; Seven in Tamil Nadu; Seven in Karnataka and 23 in another 10 States) with a total membership of 3121 members. In 1950 there were only 198 clubs with a Rotarian strength of 7785 in the whole of Asia, the least number both in matter of clubs as well as total number of Rotarians, among the Six Rotary Regions then existed.

In 1958, there were 5 districts in India, Ceylon, Burma, Pakistan, Nepal and Bhutan with about 7500 Rotarians. In another ten years; there were 430 clubs and 16,055 Rotarians in these countries. In 1968-69 Pakistan became a separate district. The number of districts in India were 12 in 1970-71. In 1980-81 there were 899 clubs in India 14 R.I. Districts with a membership of 35,172 Rotarians. In the beginning of 1995-96, the system of region in the Rotary world was abolished and the new zone system was introduced. In the first quarter of 1977, there were 1791 clubs in India with a total membership of 68,043.

The first Asian to become R.I. President from Asia was NITISH LAHARRY (1962-63) from Calcutta. Almost thirty years later we had another Indian to be elected as R.I. President, Rajendra K. Saboo from Chandigarh. He also served as Chairman of the Rotary Foundations (1996-97), the only Indian to hold the position in Rotary's history. Today we have 529 R.I. Districts with 34 zones in the Rotary world.

The Rotary Club of Vaniyambadi played the role of a ‘Catalyst’ in motivating local philanthropist Sri Nemichand Churana to donate more than Rs. 2.5 lakhs to construct a Maternity ward. After seeing the magnificent involvement of Rotarians, the donor further donated money to furnish the maternity ward built at the Government Hospital Campus, Vaniyambadi. Soon after passing away of Sri Nemichand Churana, his wife contacted the Rotarians, and on their advise she funded to start a Junior College at Vaniyambadi for women.

The Chief Minister of Tamil Nadu Thiru M.G. Ramachandran was made a Paul Harris Fellow at the Dist. Conference held at Tanjavoor in 1981-82 by IPDG G. Varadaraj, the year Rtn. G. Swaminathan was District Governor.

ROTARY FOUNDATION

The Rotary Foundation is a Trust voluntarily supported by Rotarians, Non-Rotarians and Rotary Clubs throughout the world and its objective is the furtherance of International understanding and friendly relations among the people of different nations through projects of an educational and charitable nature.

This is the largest foundation in the World.

The idea was mooted in the year 1916 by the 6th R.I. President Arch Klumph in Atlanta, Georgia, USA at the convention held there.

Any person who donates $1000 becomes or nominates a Paul Harris Fellow. There are over 9 million who have donated towards this.

Major Donors (any person donates over $ 10,000) over 6000; Bequest Society members over 3300; Benefactors over 62000.

During 1996-97, The Rotary Foundation launched its Permanent Fund. The initial target of the Permanent Fund is to raise US$ 200 million by the year 2005; The ultimate dream is to have permanent Fund of US $ 1 Billion total.

MATCHING GRANTS

The District has benefited by The Rotary Foundation's Matching Grant programme to a very large extent, in fact, probably much more than the District's contribution to the APE. It is only in the last couple of years that the quantum of Matching Grants have reduced; but this is definitely not at the expense of execution of projects by the clubs in the District.

The initial funding of the Matching Grants have been either the proportionate contribution by the Clubs or by allocation from the District Designated Fund by the District Governor. The major projects under the Matching Grants have included but not restricted to:

1. Provision of Benches and Chairs for Schools
2. Provision of Toilet facilities in Schools
3. Provision of Safe Drinking Water Facility
4. Providing additional medical equipment to Hospitals
5. Mobile Medical unit
6. Providing Artificial Limbs to Handicapped
7. Providing Micro Loans to the economically weaker sections of the Society
8. Mobile computer education unit

There have been at least three 3H Grants by The Rotary Foundation to our District, which need special mention.

1. The Centre for Rehabilitation of the Polio Affected, sponsored by Rotary Club of Madras
2. The Child Trust Hospital, sponsored by Rotary Club of Madras
3. The TTK Rotary VHS Blood Bank, sponsored by Rotary Club of Madras Central

With more projects in the pipeline and the District's contribution to APF increasing year after year creating a larger allocation of DDF down the line, the prospect of getting more Matching Grants for deserving projects appears to be quite good and the District will definitely be one of the forerunners in the field of benefiting the community through The Foundation Programmes.

OUR ROTARY DISTRICT'S PIONEERING PUBLIC HEALTH PROJECTS

Rtn. Dr. T. Jacob John

(with inputs from PDG S.R. Govindarajan:
PPs S.L. Chitale and K.C. Vijayan)

A brief historical account.

The Measles Immunisation project

The Canada India Rotary connection.

In May 1977, the incoming Rotary Governor of District 320 - S.R. Govindarajan - attended the Conferences of Districts 701 and 704 in Canada and helped finalise the "twinning" of District 320 with the Canadian Districts of 701, 704 and 707. In January 1978 Canadian Rotarians made a return visit to Madras during our District Conference. Among them was District Governor Aubrey Oldham, who happened to be the Project Identification Officer of the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA). Between the two District Governors, 21 projects worth nearly a million dollars were signed up, mostly with the Rotary Club of Madras. How prophetic were the words of DG Aubrey uttered in 1978: "this mission could change the history of international relationships". The major project was one of disaster relief through which the Tamil Nadu Government became aware of the potential role of Rotary in the State. The then Chief Minister M.G. Ramachandran issued a Government Order recognizing Rotary as the Non-Governmental Organization (NGO) that could be partners to implement Government-funded Social Welfare Projects.

The birth of a new idea.

During the International Assembly at Boca Raton in 1977, two District Governor Nominees, P. Jagadeesan of District 320 and Bernard Crookes of the Twinned District 707 in Canada, decided to develop a joint programme in 1978-79. 1979 was to be the International Year of the Child and also the Golden Jubilee year of the RC of Madras. A Childhood Measles Immunization project was suggested by the DGN Bud Crookes and DGN PJ accepted it. Neither of them knew at that time that measles vaccine had been excluded from the National Immunisation Programme by the Government of India (GoI) and that the obstacles to implement the project would be formidable. They had also no idea how momentous, futuristic and revolutionary that decision would turn out to be.

Back in India, the Canadian measles vaccine project was decided to be a World Community Service project of the RC of Madras, to celebrate its Golden Jubilee (50th anniversary). The Club President V Chidambaram and the WCS Committee Chairman Rtn. R P Sarathy agreed to sponsor it and chose Rtn. Krish Chitale to act as host to the visiting Canadian colleagues. The sustained supportive role of Krish Chitale in making the measles immunization project a success will always be remembered with gratitude by the Rotarians of our district.

A Rotary-Anne's influence.

Rotary Clubs in Canada raised funds and applied to obtain "Special Grant" from the Rotary Foundation. RI President 1978/79 was Clem Renouf of Australia, a quiet man with ‘explosive ideas’. His Rotary theme itself was “Reach Out” and he exemplified it in his Rotary life, as we shall see soon. The Special Grant application did not convince him - he did not think much of the need for measles vaccine in India. Developed countries had by then controlled the disease with vaccination and the name measles no longer evoked the dread it would have in the 1950s and 1960s. On the first day of the RI meeting, the application was rejected.

Pres. Clem happened to mention this in the evening to his wife, who promptly chided him for his insensitivity to the misery of measles in children. She described to him how children suffer and mothers worry until the lucky ones recover but the unlucky ones develop complications and may even die. The next day RI Pres. Clem reopened the item and got the Special Grant approved. He reached out and indeed touched many in need. Having realized the value of vaccines in improving child survival and health, in 1979/80, RI Press Clem designed and launched the Health, Hunger and Humanity (3H) Programme to honour and commemorate the 75 years of Rotary service to the world, adding health as an important component of Rotary projects that were until then mostly confined to economic and educational arenas.

The magic of doubling money.

The Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) had a clause under which Canadian donations to developing countries would be matched and doubled by it. The Canadian Rotarians got their dollars doubled through CIDA. The smooth passage was partly due to PDG Aubrey Oldham’s endorsement. The funds were now sufficient to purchase, 68,000 doses of measles vaccine from Merck Sharpe & Dohme Company in USA. The next incoming DG of District 707, Paul McKelvy, appointed Rtn (Dr) Kenneth Hobbs of RC of Whitby as the Districts 707-320 Project Coordinator. Rtn Ken was ably assisted by Rtn Bill Nurse who alone had a telex connection in Whitby.

The Government of India announced its adoption of the WHO Expanded Programme on Immunization (EPI) in 1978. Measles vaccine was included by WHO in EPI, but it was excluded by the Government of India in our national programme. The main reason was the advice received from leading pediatricians who felt that measles was not an important problem and also that the community would not accept it. Measles (along with smallpox and chickenpox) was popularly believed to be caused by the ‘visitation of a goddess’. It was called ‘mother’ (mata, Hindi; ammai. Tamil). Oblivious of these problems, the Canadian Rotarians and their Indian counterparts pressed forward.

That telex machine of Rtn Bill Nurse became the busy channel of innumerable messages criss-crossing to and from the WHO, and CIDA, RI, the vaccine manufacturer, Air India officials, the Madras Rotarians and travel agents. Rtn Ken Hobbs and Mrs. Eva Hobbs came to Madras in September 1979 to ensure the proper handling of the vaccine. As the funds were just sufficient only for vaccine purchase, the Hobbs couple traveled to India spending their own money.

Patience and perseverance overcome problems.

Rtn. Hobbs and Madras Rotarian team faced and overcame a series of setbacks and problems regarding this project. At first the Drugs Controller General of India (National Regulatory Agency, NRA) declined to allow the importation of a vaccine that was not in the national policy of childhood immunization. The NRA put forth a 'lame excuse' that the Merck vaccine virus strain (Moraten, trade name Attenuvax) was unacceptable in India. The solid support of the WHO headquarters in Geneva and SE Asia Office in New Delhi and of the UNICEF and leading Indian experts in Tamil Nadu on measles and measles vaccine strains was very helpful in obtaining the import permit after a lot of intricate negotiations. Much research had been done in Tamil Nadu (and published in medical journals) on the frequency and severity of measles, the high rates of serious complications and measles-related mortality. The firm stand taken by the then Tamil Nadu Minister for Health, Dr. H.V. Hande was invaluable, as according to the law, the State had as much say in human health as had the Government of India.

On Friday 28 September 1979, around 9-30 at night, the vaccine arrived in Chennai airport. High drama was to follow. Just two days previously the air cargo holding building caught fire. So the Tamil Nadu Civil Supplies and Customs officials decided that the vaccine containers would stay on the open tarmac for four days, until cleared by customs personnel after the weekend, and after the local festival holidays were over, by Tuesday next. That would have been catastrophic as the vaccine was temperature sensitive and had to be stored below 8 degrees C. The cartons had been packed with dry ice (frozen CO₂) that would last 5 days only. If left in the September heat in the open the potency of the vaccine would deteriorate and the entire effort would have been wasted.

During the day frantic telephone calls were made to the Health Minister of Government of India in New Delhi and the Chief Minister's office in Madras, and finally permission was obtained to shift the consignment to the cold storage of Spencer & Company in the city, to be opened only in the presence of customs officials on Wednesday. The dramatis personae behind this success were Ken Hobbs and Krish Chitale, and the Madras Rotarians Chidambaram Kumar, Gopal and V.J. Chacko. Once the vaccine cartons were in the Spencer's cold room, Ken unpacked one of the boxes and found that the ice pack was still intact. The next day they appealed to the Director of Civil Supplies for permission to unpack all the boxes. That was Saturday and Spencer would close at 1-30 pm. Till 12-30 pm there was no permission. Ken and Eva then went to the Spencer's cold room and unpacked all the boxes themselves and arranged all vaccine vials properly on the shelves. Someone tipped off the customs officials; but by the time they appeared on the scene they were confronted with fait accompli, they did not know how to react. They simply ignored this "misdemeanor" by a couple of foreigners.

Another unexpected problem and a visionary solution.

The next hurdle was to convince Madras pediatricians to use the vaccine in children. There were medical meetings and press conferences arranged by the RC of Madras, but they remained unconvinced. Indeed there was stiff opposition to measles immunization among senior pediatricians who wrote letters in newspapers against the project. They had two arguments. One, it was not included under India EPI; second, they suspected that it was an experimental vaccine, without its need or its value officially tested by the academia.

There was no immediate solution in sight and the large consignment of vaccine remained in the shelf.

In 1979/80 the Rotary District Governor was Venugopal C Govind of Cochin. He made the decision to expand the measles immunization as a District 320 project so that the vaccine could also be distributed to a few selected RCs outside the city of Madras. In January 1980, DG Venu sent telegrams to 5 clubs offering 12,000 doses each. The club that responded immediately and positively was RC of Vellore, under Pres. A.M. Sheriff. The Vellore Rotarians immunized 12,000 children under the guidance and leadership of Rtn (Dr) T. Jacob John, who had personal knowledge and experience of using measles vaccine in the USA. Soon two more consignments of 12,000 doses each were collected and used by Vellore Rotarians. Immunisation was conducted in 'camps' both in towns and villages. On two occasions, in Arcot and Arkonam, more than 5000 children were immunized in one camp day. Requests for measles vaccination camps came from many villages in the region.

In one village not far from Chingleput a measles outbreak had started and a few children had died. The pros and cons of introducing immunization at that juncture was discussed with village elders and finally yielding to the wishes of the villagers, a camp was organized, but only by about 7 pm. After we returned, the Health Minister visited to convey his sympathies to the bereaved families, but he was pleasantly surprised to receive accolades for the immunization camp. Since that episode, Health Minister Dr. Hande was always helpful to Rotarians for all Rotary projects.

Other RCs, particularly those in Coimbatore, Salem, and Kumbakonam, invited Vellore Rotarians to come, talk, recount their experiences and motivate doctors to organize immunization camps. Three outstanding leaders of measles immunization camps in these RCs were Rtn Krishnaswamy (Coimbatore), Rtn Purushothaman (Salem) and Rtn (Dr) Viruthagiri (Kumbakonam.) Soon Rtn Venkatasubbiah (RC of Madras West) took leadership and obtained the cooperation of a few doctors in the city. Gradually the critics were silenced and the programme went on successfully. Before the end of 1980, all these above RCs had conducted several highly successful measles immunization camps and the entire stock of vaccine was used up. Wherever camps were conducted Rotarians invited the local Public Health Officers to participate, so that everyone saw that measles vaccination was the joint effort of the State Government and the Rotary movement.

Success breeds success.

1980 was the 75th Anniversary of the Rotary movement and RI President Clem had designed and launched the 3H Programme to celebrate the Jubilee. Districts 707 and 320 succeeded in getting a 3H grant to continue the measles immunization project over the next 5 years. On the R.I. Committee on the 3H Measles Immunization Programme was PDG Wilfred Wilkinson of District 707, who visited many clubs in our District. It is our unique pleasure to know that the same PDG Wilf Wilkinson, friend of our Rotary District (now 3230), is going to be the RI President in 2007 - 2008.

Under the 3H measles programme 3.5 million doses were received in seven half-yearly consignments, each of 0.5 million doses. Rtns Ken Hobbs, Krish Chitale and Jacob John continued to play their admirable roles in the expanded Rotary measles immunization programme. Both the vaccine and the Rotary movement became very popular in Tamil Nadu and Rotary became a household word, synonymous with measles prevention. The benefits of measles immunization were appreciated both by the State Government and by the rural and urban communities in which children did not die of measles any more. Eye hospitals recorded a dramatic drop in the numbers of children coming with keratomalacia, the dreaded eye complication of measles leading to blindness. Post measles kwashiorkor virtually disappeared from local hospitals. The Government's childhood immunization programme became well accepted and even demanded by the people. Today, Tamil Nadu tops in routine immunization coverage. The turning point was the Rotary measles project.

Up scaling measles immunization at national level.

In 1984, Rtn Dr Jacob John (RC of Vellore) was a member on two Committees (Communicable diseases and EPI) under the 8th Planning Commission. He described the benefits and popularity of measles immunization, and the Planning Commission adopted measles immunization as Plan activity over the next five years (1985-90), overruling objections from Health Ministry officials. In the first year 80 revenue districts were covered under measles immunization, and each year more districts were added, until by 1990, all districts were covered. From 1991 the cost of measles vaccine, provided by the Planning Commission until then, was included in the Ministry of Health annual budget. The EPI was renamed 'the Universal Immunization Programme' (UIP) to highlight the inclusion of measles vaccine.

We made history

Previously measles used to take a heavy toll of lives of our children. In rural communities 3% and in urban communities 1% of children did not survive to their fifth birthday, on account of measles and its complications - dysentery, pneumonia, brain damage, malnutrition and blindness. The Rotary movement and many individual Rotarians, across the globe, have put an end to the misery of measles in India. Previously it was believed that the vaccine would not be accepted by the families. Our success led to the change in national policy in measles. We owe our gratitude to many visionary and revolutionary leaders in Rotary for changing the course of the history of Public Health in India. Due to heavy demand, one Indian company (Serum Institute of India) began manufacturing measles vaccine and today it supplies more than 60% of global need.

The Tamil Nadu Polio Plus project.

From WCS to 3H and from measles to polio.

With the successful launch of the 3H Programme, and with inter-country cooperation and several Rotary district-wide projects under way. Past RI President Clem Renouf wanted to organize a world-wide Rotary project. One of the Rotary volunteers who came to ensure the smooth running of the Measles Immunization Project in District 320 was PDG (Dr) John Sever of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Maryland, USA. PRIP Clem asked PDG John Sever his opinion on the next disease after smallpox that could be and should be eradicated globally. Being a renowned pediatrician-virologist, his opinion carried weight. PDG John suggested that paralytic polio was the best choice for eradication. PRIP Clem wanted to know more about polio and its prevention. There was already a World Community Service project in the Philippines for immunizing children against polio, and RI President Jim Bomar had given the first dose of OPV to a child in Manila in 1980. After the successful camp approach of measles immunization, the RC of Vellore had begun conducting polio immunization in camps in 1980 and such annual repetitive camps were named “pulse immunization”.

The birth of PolioPlus

The only Past RI President to visit the RC of Vellore was Clem Renouf. After the successful leadership in measles immunization through the camp approach, in 1980 the RC of Vellore had established “pulse immunization” for the effective control of paralytic poliomyelitis using OPV. If measles was killing 1% of preschool children, polio was paralyzing almost an equal number. One could not justify saving a child from death and allow her/him to become paralysed.

In 1981 Past RI President Clem Renouf came to see for himself the project of polio prevention by pulse immunisation. The camps were mostly managed by Rotarians and Annes under the supervision of doctor members. In just one year, the incidence of polio could be brought down by 90 per cent in Vellore town. PRIP Clem was impressed by the convenience of the camp approach, the potential of participation by many ‘volunteers’ and the rapid control of polio. All signs were positive. PDG John had suggested polio control as the next Rotary target. The toss up was between measles and polio for a global Rotary project aiming at eradication. Polio won the day; with hindsight one has to wonder if that was the right decision for the world.

PRIP Clem Renouf believed that the goal to control polio globally by 2005, the centenary year of the Rotary movement, would be the right path of growth in service for the Rotary movement. Thinking, planning and convincing Rotary leaders took two years. The incoming RI President (Dr) Carlos Canseco (for the year 1984-85) was charged with formalizing the ‘Polio control by 2005’ project or ‘Polio 2005’ for short. Approved by the RI leaders and Rotary Foundation Trustees, a ‘Polio 2005 Committee’ was established at the Rotary headquarters. RI Pres. Carlos named PDG John Sever as the Chairman. Rtn Jacob John of the RC of Vellore was invited as a member of the Committee, in recognition of his leadership role in the Rotary measles immunization programme and in Pulse Immunisation against polio. RI General Secretary Herbert Pigman acted as secretary. Dr Albert Sabin who developed the OPV was invited as “advisor”. The Polio 2005 Committee met twice in 1984 and finalised the project.

The Committee decided to rename the project as ‘Polio Plus’, to symbolize Rotary’s focus on polio immunization within the framework of childhood immunization being spearheaded by WHO and UNICEF as proposed by Rtn Jacob John but stoutly opposed by Dr Sabin. When the decision went against Dr Sabin he resigned from PolioPlus, but the new design created tremendous goodwill for us both in various countries and also in WHO and UNICEF. Thus Rotary became global level partner in Public Health to the UN agencies of WHO and UNICEF. Rtn Jacob John continued to serve on the PolioPlus Committee until 1987, when it was merged with the 3H Committee. He served on the 3H Committee until 1990. As Rotary volunteer he visited, and initiated PolioPlus projects in Sri Lanka, Somalia, Zimbabwe, Lesotho, Swaziland and Tamil Nadu in India.

Advantage, Tamil Nadu.

When the rules of procedure were drawn up, the consensus was to make PolioPlus grants to national level immunization programmes. Rtn Jacob John had thoughtfully introduced a clause under PolioPlus rules of procedure, enabling grants to “large states like Tamil Nadu, in large countries like India”. In January 1986, an offer of a PolioPlus grant was made to the Ministry of Health through RI Director Manohar Manchanda, but the Government declined. When the PolioPlus Committee met next in Las Vegas, Rtn Jacob John made a PolioPlus application on behalf of Tamil Nadu State using the clause mentioned above and Rtn Ken Hobbs (also a member) seconded it. The project was approved and on return to India Jacob obtained the approval and concurrence from District Governor Raja Ramakrishnan. The Government of India accepted the concept of National PolioPlus from Rotary International only 3 Years later.

The measles immunization project veterans were back in action. Health Minister Hande helped the project with the necessary legal requirements from the Government. For 5 years Rtn Chidambaram chaired the Tamil Nadu PolioPlus Committee, Rtn. Krish Chitale served as Coordinator, Rtn. Purushothaman took charge of cold chain improvements and supplies and Rtn Jacob John took charge of obtaining quality poliovaccine and other technical issues. In addition to Rtns Venkatasubbiah and Krishna swamy, new Rotary leaders like District Governor G. Varadaraj (of Coimbatore) and many others worked tirelessly for the success of Polio control in Tamil Nadu.

Rotary donated a large Cold room-cum Freezer facility in the King Institute in Guindy, Chennai. That became the bulk storage facility for all vaccines procured by Tamil Nadu. Rotary also purchased and installed 150 ice-lined refrigerators in various Health Centres and donated several dozens of large, medium and small insulated vaccine storage boxes and vaccine carrying bags.

The Tamil Nadu PolioPlus programme was implemented jointly by the Government of Tamil Nadu and all Rotary Clubs in the State. The State had been receiving its share of polio vaccine from the Government of India, which was just sufficient to give 3 doses per child. We knew that each child needed 5 doses in infancy and 2 or 3 more doses in the next four years. While 3 doses came from GOI, 5 doses came from Rotary, for a total of 8 doses. Already, the routine childhood immunization programme was performing extremely well on account of the popularity of and demand for measles vaccine. The polio prevention programme further strengthened the quality of services of childhood immunization in Tamil Nadu. The number of Polio cases was 4409 in 1987, but it plummeted to 1376 the next year, 130 in 1995 and just 25 cases in 1996 - the year when India began pulse immunization for polio control and eradication. The last case of polio in the State was in 1999; we achieved zero polio status from 2000. In 2002-03 there was a nation-wide outbreak of polio and there were 3 imported cases in Tamil Nadu, but there was no secondary spread, thanks to the efficient immunization programme.

Eradication of polio in India. The unfinished agenda.

National level pulse immunization began in December 1995, with the second dose given in January 1996. In Tamil Nadu all children below 5 years were targetted whereas in the rest of the country vaccine was available only for children below 3. Rtn K.C. Vijayan was appointed the Chairman of Tamil Nadu Rotary Polio Plus and under his able leadership, polio immunization performance of Tamil Nadu was cited as the model for the country. In the annual meeting of the Indian Academy of Pediatrics Infectious Diseases Chapter (October 2006), the Joint Director of Public Health stated that for six consecutive years Tamil Nadu stood first among all States in immunization coverage of infants, with over 95% having got all doses of all vaccines. He mentioned that it was the Rotary's involvement, starting with measles immunization, the extra doses of OPV, the strengthening of cold chain and the leadership in public participation that helped the State to achieve this success.

HUNGER

“It is true that we are all hungry; some for power, some for love, others for materialistic wealth or spiritual enlightenment. Healthy hunger at times stimulates progress. But it is hunger of the belly that deprives society of dignity, eroding its very foundation. Such hunger cannot be reasoned with, for it has no ears to listen. When lives hang in the balance, no philosophy can help, Food is life itself.”

POLIOPLUS CHALLENGE- A SECOND DECADE OF ACTION

(With particular reference to Tamil Nadu)

Rtn. PP. K.C. Vijayan

Dist Advisor, Polioplus (2006-07)

A DECADE SINCE 1985: Rotary International, with a corporate commitment launched the Polio eradication initiatives in 1985, the biggest single community service (medical) program ever undertaken by any non-governmental organization in the world and so far has spent over US $ 546 million worldwide which would soon cross US $ 600 million! To strengthen the Routine Immunisation program, Rotary first raised millions of dollars and supplied vaccines to many Governments of the world, especially the third world countries as it was thought that, rightly so, routine Immunisation, would bring down the incidence of Polio. Strengthening Routine Immunisation, the first and basic strategy had its own effect of reducing the incidence of Polio worldwide, but at a painfully slow pace in India because of very low coverages. Finally the situation stagnated. However, Routine Immunisation has no substitute and has to be continued reaching very high coverages until the whole world is certified Polio free.

THE SECOND DECADE 1996-2006: In 1995, Rotary brought all the States' Health Ministers and Officials and the Centre together and played the most crucial role of advocacy for initiating the most vital second strategy for Polio eradication viz. Mass Immunisation. This program called for sudden and simultaneous immunization of all the children under five years of age in the whole country with OPV on a single day and repeat the dose again 4 to 6 weeks later at a time in the year when the wild Polio virus transmission is low. Thus, mass immunization, known as Pulse Polio Immunisation (PPI) in India, called for enormous planning given the logistics of our country. To bring about this program to reality, Rotary made 2 promises (1) to fund (through UNICEF and other World bodies) the cost of additional doses of vaccines required for immunising all the children in the country on NIDs; (2) to use the entire Rotary force and its resources to create massive awareness and social mobilization and give volunteer support. Thus authored by Rotary in India, the first PPI program was held in December 1995, when all the states in India reached the children under three years and only Tamil Nadu covering all children under five years!

Since then there had been no looking back and year after year PPI programs are being conducted on the days advised by the WHO and the Government of India covering all the children under 5 years in all States. One can understand the magnitude of the program from the single fact that in the 2005 year cycle more than 807 Million doses of OPV were administered to children in the country on the NIDs and SNIDs (excluding the routine and out break response doses)!

Narrowing down our focus to Tamil Nadu the table below will show the coverages on all the NIDs since 1995.

OPV doses mobilized for each PPI round	98 lakhs

Still narrowing our focus to RI Dist.3230, the total number of doses of OPV given to children under five years in the last 2 PPI rounds in 2006 were 19,06,157 & 19,04,098 respectively making a total of 38,10,255 doses! The Pulse Polio campaign has already had a tremendous impact on the incidence of Polio in India and especially in Tamil Nadu. The number of cases continued to decline following successive NIDs. Tamil Nadu which reported 5171 cases in 1981 which came down to 130 in 1995 when the PPI program was initiated, came to NIL Polio status in 2000 and continues to be so excepting for 2 imported cases in 2003 and one in 2004. Since then Tamil Nadu has been enjoying the NIL Polio status.

NIL Polio disease status does not necessarily guarantee Nil Polio virus status. Hence to identify the last pockets of virus reservoirs, a joint set up of the WHO and the Government of India assisted by the State Health Departments and other agencies, known as National Polio Surveillance Project, a perfect surveillance system has been put in place. Consequently the third and the fourth and final Polio eradication strategies viz. Active Flaccid Paralysis Surveillance and Mop Up immunisation programs were initiated. In Tamil Nadu the system has been working very effectively since it is not new to Tamil Nadu as a similar local system was initiated in Vellore years ago.

- We have, in Tamil Nadu, dedicated department officials and committed Rotarians and their families.
- In Tamil Nadu all the Municipal Corporations and Municipalities and all other concerned departments are deeply involved in all the Polio eradication activities.
- In Tamil Nadu there has always been excellent relationship and understanding between Rotary and all the concerned Government officials at all levels, working hand in hand.
- We, at least in Tamil Nadu, achieve consistently high routine Immunisation coverages which we will continue.

- We have been, at least in Tamil Nadu, achieving very high coverages of the under five years children population during the Pulse Polio Immunisation programs year after year which we will continue.
- We have, in Tamil Nadu, reached and remained in the zero Polio Status ever since December 1999/January 2000, excepting stray cases due to importation 2 in 2003 and 1 in 2004.
- Rotary's contribution had been immeasurable which included the provision of
 - Thousands of colour cloth banners in various sizes with PPI messages.
 - Thousands of banners to identify the Immunisation centers.
 - Thousands of banners for use on vehicles, mainly autorickshaws.
 - Millions of handbills with PPI messages.
 - Thousands of colour posters.
 - Large street rallies to create awareness
 - Hundreds of autorickshaws fitted with PA systems to spread the PPI messages in street publicity.
 - Thousands of audio publicity cassettes and hundreds of video cassettes including TV spots.

- Thousands of volunteers - Rotarians and their families and employees, Rotaractors etc. offering volunteer support, food and beverages and vehicles.

Finally, our PPI programs would not have been a success but for our people. PPI program has become people's program; it has brought to light the triumph of volunteerism; it has proved women power - it is women who always bring the children to the Immunisation centers every where; it is a political gift accepted by any party in power; it is the only game where every one ends as a winner..

Against the backdrop of 352 cases of Polio being reported in the country in the current year up to 30th of September, Tamil continues to be in Nil Polio status.

Of course the final and real challenge for Tamil Nadu is to fight complacency and do all that is necessary to keep achieving 100% routine immunization coverages and reach every child during PPI days and remain Polio free until the whole country, nay the whole world is certified Polio free.

In 1996, Food Security Fair and Symposium was held by Rotary Club of Madras East in preparation for the World Food Summit held in Rome in November 1996. The Prime Minister of India Sri Deva Gowda inaugurated the fair. For the First time for a Rotary Club associated programme Prime Minister of India was the Chief Guest.

SEMESTER-A T-SEA AND ROTARY DISTRICT 3230

1. Semester-at-Sea (SAS) is a unique programme currently run by the Institute for Shipboard Education (ISE), University of Pittsburgh, USA. The first shipboard semester was started in 1926 aboard the ship known as S.S. Ryndam. The University of Pittsburgh has been sponsoring this programme since 1981. The latest ship is known as MV Explorer which accommodates approximately 650 students, 50 faculty and staff and normally carries about 125 Asian officers and crew members. The ship campus consists of classrooms, theater, core library and study lounges, in addition to standard facilities of any ocean-going vessels. In fact, students are required to participate in an international field programme during visits to countries in diverse parts of the world. Due to interdisciplinary nature of the programme, SAS is appropriate for undergraduates in all fields of study. Each semester comprises 55 days at sea and 45 days in port, visiting countries in Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe and Latin America.
2. Each course in the shipboard curriculum must be approved by the Dean's Council in the College of Arts and Sciences and by appropriate departmental chairs and curriculum committees. Although the faculty on each voyage come from many Universities, their credentials as well as their course are subject to the normal review for all teaching appointments at the University of Pittsburgh. Students receive a University of Pittsburgh transcript for credit earned during SAS. They learn about diversity within the shipboard community in the context of their own culture as well as those world cultures they are experiencing for the first time.

3. The instructional objectives of SAS are clearly different from traditional study aboard programmes. The programme closely examines the task of achieving an intellectual understanding of the web of global relationships, focusing on the countries visited. The Countries and regions visited offer first-hand look at the societies and issues that they have been studying in the classroom. Educational activities on land complement class-room instruction, with field experience becoming the “laboratory” component of each course in the liberal arts curriculum.

Rotary District 3230's Association with SAS

4. In 1991, a few Rotarians of Chennai, District 3230 came forward to host students of SAS when the ship berthed in Chennai because the Ship S.S. Universe Explorer carrying the SAS students stops only in Chennai amongst the Indian Ports as part of its itinerary. A Rotarian chapter in Chennai had graciously arranged to host 30 SAS participants for this homestay. The home stay was very rewarding experience both for the students as well as the host families. As the objective of this programme is in tune with Rotary objective of promoting International understanding in response to a request from RI District 3230, the University of Pittsburgh introduced a new scheme called ‘Interport Scholarship’ during 1993. Under this scheme Rotary District 3230 selects 2 students of Madras University, flies them to port from which the ship sails to Chennai and these students then board the ship from the port and travel to Chennai as Interport students. Scholarship to the tune of $ 600 was provided by ISE each time the ship berthed at Chennai. This fund helped to part finance cost of travel for our 2 interport students. The participated students found the experience rewarding. During the period of sailing to Chennai for a week, or so, they had the opportunity to interact with cross section of students drawn from different parts of USA. This has resulted in promoting world understanding and thus considered as one of the finest projects of the Rotary District in the sphere of International understanding. 40 students from Chennai had taken part in the Interport students programme and benefited immensely.

5. Following are the excerpts of the experience gained by interport students:

- I admired the mettle of the S.S. Universe family that continued their voyage in spite of September 11th US. terrorist attacks. I had discovered capabilities and strengths that would have otherwise lain dormant. I realized the amity, happiness and warmth were beyond the barriers of country, caste and colour. Miss Menaka Rao also conveys her gratefulness for this opportunity to all the Rotary fraternity and her parents.
- Our mission was to enlighten about India among Americans and help them discover India - a noble cause indeed! We were attacked with questions of diverse nature and they showed keen interest in the caste system that existed in India, the arranged marriage, on Hinduism, Meditation etc. Many students wanted to know the significance of wearing a Bindi. One student told me that visiting India was also one important reason for his interest in SAS. They were happy and appreciative when they got appropriate answers to varied topics. I also noticed respect I saw in the eyes of Americans for India. Gayathri Veeramani sums up her experience eulogizing Rotary Club of Adyar and Rotary District 3230 for offering her this rare opportunity and privilege.

- It was an unforgettable encounter and I made lasting friendship -- was Mithun Subramanian's voice. His counsel to other Interpret students was to brush up on India's current political status, history and religions and to approach the prospect with confidence.
- Rtn P.S. Seshadri of Rotary Club of Ambattur who is associated with taking SAS students on a picnic trip to Mahabalipuram, for the last 7 years, vividly shares his experience by concluding that they are happy and appreciative when they get appropriate answers to their questions and this also helps in changing their view about India as poor and under-developed country. An experience of this nature certainly helps to change their outlook and in some measure promotes international understanding
- Rtn. N. Krishnan of Rotary Club of Ambattur, says "It can be easily seen that the goals and objectives of the Semester-at-Sea programme are very much in tune with Rotary's objective in the avenue of International Service, promoting International understanding and one can say with confidence that this unique and fruitful partnership between Rotary and Semester-at-Sea will go on for a long time."

CHENNAI MARATHON

It was Past Dist Governor Rtn.R. Ganapathi who hit upon a novel idea which he shared with Shri.K.S. Sripathi I.A.S. then Sport Secretary and that resulted in the birth of Chennai Marathon.

Unlike the marathons other cities in the world have, the Chennai Marathon, is organized and managed by the Rotarians of R I Dist 3230. From its humble beginnings during 2001-2002 the event has grown in stature every year and has attracted the attention of top athletes worldwide and it had become the pride of Dist 3230.

Rtn. R. Benjamin Cherian as the first Chairman of the event along with then Governor Rtn. Ganapathi worked out nitty-gritty's of the event with the tremendous support of Mr. P.W.C. Davidar, IAS, Member Secretary of the Sports Development Authority of Tamil Nadu liaising with a host of Government departments and other sponsors to get the citizens of Chennai to run.

We had reputed Multi National companies in India like Bharathi Telecom, Coca-cola and Hutch to sponsor for the first year and subsequent years. In the year 2002-03 & 2003-04, Chennai Marathon was conducted with the same vigour by Rtn. DGN A. Subraminiam an Rtn Capt Jayadevan respectively.

During the centennial year of Rotary 2004-05, under the chairmanship of Rtn. George B. Cherian, Rotary District tied up with 'TEMENOS' Swiss software giant with a big sponsorship for three consecutive years, which resulted in increased prize money.

A unique GPS tracking system, using a computer chip has been attached to the runners of the full and half marathons to eliminate errors in calculation. Runners from Kenya were flown in to participate in the event. There were many "Runs for a Cause". It was totally dedicated towards 10 different causes like Literacy/Polio/Aids/CRY/Helpage etc. During the Centenary year "R.I. District 3230 Chennai Marathon and Sports Trust" was formed with the past Chairmens of Chennai Marathon so that it provides a base where the current chairman can rely upon and it also provides support to the current chairman to execute the event on an International Standard. We have also patented Chennai Marathon Logo with Registrar of Trade Marks.

In 2005-06 it was continued in the same vigor by the Chairman Rtn. P. Srinivasan with number of participants exceeding 20000.

Every year people of Chennai are looking for it and prepare themselves for running and it has become big event for print and electronic media and others and the image of Rotary has gone up really high in the minds of the people of Tamil Nadu.

This is just the beginning of a saga that promises to continue with the spirit and eagerness to do more and meet loftier standards. The Chennai Marathon will blossom into a Marathon equaling international standards.

Dr. KEN HOBBS & EVA HOBBS

Our friends from Canada

With Input from Rtn. S.L. Chitale.

Rotary Club of Madras

In the Rotary World, Rtn, PDG. Ken Hobbs is called as “Father of the Immunization Programme”. His devotion and concern about children’s health is something of a rare phenomenon.

In token of appreciation, Rotary International has conferred the prestigious “POLIOPLUS PIONEER AWARD” on him. He is also conferred with the Canada’s prestigious civilian award “THE ORDER OF ONTARIO” by the Ontario State and C.M. (Companion Member of the Order of Canada) by the Canadian Government.

It would interest you to know some of his contributes towards the cause of the children of Tamil Nadu, which are given belo. He and Eva have visited Chennai for the past 25 years at their own cost.

In the International year of the Child 1979, the Rotary Club of Madras, decided to take up the project of Total Immunization of children below 5 years old. The year 1979-80 was the 75th Anniversary of Rotary International and Golden Jubilee Year for Rotary Club of Madras. A special 3-H (Health, Hunger & Humanity) programme was set in motion. From what started as a Rotary Club of Madras project with Rotary club of Whitby with a small quantity of 68,000 doses of measles vaccine became a giant Canada-

India Red Measles Programme, involving R.I. Districts 707 and 320 of immunizing 5.2 million children in 6 years period.

POLIO PLUS : In 1984, Rotary Foundation has launched a very useful and large project called the Polio Plus Programme, to immunize millions of children of the world against Polio and ensure a Polio Free World.

Because of the success of the Measles Immunization Project, Rotary International gave a Special Grant Status to Tamil Nadu and a grant of $ 2.62 million was given for the Tamil Nadu Polio Plus programme to eradicate Polio (1986-1993)

CHILDS TRUST HOSPITAL : (The only Pediatric Hospital in Private Sector in India) : Rtn PDG Dr. Ken Hobbs and Rotary Club of Madras brought into fruition a mammoth project in the Childs Trust Hospital in Chennai, with a 3-H Grant of $ 608,000 for supply of medical equipment to this 200 bedded hospital. R.I. Dist. 7070, Canada has through its Clubs, donated $100,000 towards the above project in addition to the above grant.

ROTARY WORTH TRUST PROJECT : Again, with the assistance of Rotary Clubs in Canada, an amount of $ 93,000 sanctioned by Rotary in 1985 for a 2 year project for Training and Rehabilitation of the handicapped people.

PROJECT THANNEER : (WATER PROJECT) : Rotary Club of Madras has been taking up the task of re-changing of fresh water aquifer in some temple tanks by cleaning the surrounding areas and then providing collection pits around the temple tanks to guide rain water and thereby raise the ground water level. The project was financed by Rotary Club of Madras at a cost of Rs.4 lakhs for each tank. There are 36 tanks in the Chennai City which need upgradation. These tanks are around every temple in South India and are as ancient as 1000 years old.

REHABILITATION CENTRE FOR THE DISABLED:

Rotary Club of Madras realized the pressing rehabilitation needs of thousands of those already affected by Poliomyelitis.

It is estimated, there are about 8 to 9 million handicapped people in Tamil Nadu. This project has been sponsored by Dist.; 7070, Canada to Rotary Foundation and a generous grant of $500,000 (Rs. 2 Crores) was sanctioned by the Rotary Foundation. This project has already been started at K.K. Nagar Hospital in Chennai. The slogans that lead to this programme are

1. Corrective Surgery and provision of calipers for polio handicapped.
2. Facilities for physiotherapy.
3. Education.
4. Selection of candidates for different Vocational Training programmes, depending on their aptitude.

PDG Ken & Eva Hobbs have worked round the world from Africa to Indonesia for the sake of children and have done projects worth more than $ 14 million. They have willed $ 250,000 for the children of Tamil Nadu.

To honour this dedicated couple, Rotary club of Madras has decided to set up a centre in their name called "Dr. Ken & Eva Hobbs Rotary Rehabilitation Centre" at Voluntary Health Centre, Chennai and Rs 20 lakh was collected towards this through Rotary Club of Madras Charitable Trust. This Center is known as Rtn.(PDG) DR. KEN & EVA HOBBS (OF CANADA) REHABILITATION CENTRE, FOR THE HANDICAPED OF THE ROTARY CLUB OF MADRAS AND V.H.S

HISTORY OF ROTARY NEWS

Communicating and sharing are major necessities of man. Rotary News is approved regional magazine for India, Bangladesh, Nepal and Sri Lanka. Started in 1952, it has surged through five decades, in the face of adverse conditions, meagre resources and financial constraints, and is now going strong in its fifty-fourth year of publication. Rotary Samachar is the Hindi edition of Rotary News, with identical format, contents, and photos. It came into being in 1983 to cater to the Hindi speaking sections of India. What has made Rotary News and Rotary Samachar popular with subscribers? Between 1952 and 1982, the magazine was of a smaller size, with the number of pages varying between 40 and 48. In the 1980s, the magazine came in a bigger size but with fewer number of pages-averaging 32, sometimes with only 28 pages, or even 24 pages.

After their arrival in Madras, the two magazines had 32 pages for the first issue (dated November 1990). The number of pages was slowly raised to 72. Colour was introduced, initially for 4 pages and then for all. For the past two years, the magazines have averaged 80 pages.

The Beginning

The earliest form of the magazine was The Eastern Rotary Wheel, which was founded and edited by Rtn. Alistair MacRae and published by A. Macrae & Co., Bombay in the 1930s. The source of reports was Rtn. Herbert Bryant, Secretary, Rotary International Middle Asia Branch Office in Bombay. The magazine was printed on glossy art paper.

1940

Rtn. MacRae sold his business and emigrated to South Africa after India became Independent in 1947. The new Indian owners of the company continued to publish The Eastern Rotary Wheel.

R.I. closed down its Middle Asia Office in Bombay, and The Eastern Rotary Wheel ceased publication. Some Past District Governors in India felt the need for a magazine. PDG. D.N. "Debu" Hosali of Bangalore, who was publishing Mysindia, took over the responsibility of bringing out a Rotary journal. The first issue of Rotary News came out on July 15, 1952. The issue for the month of July 1952 carried this legend: "Published under the auspices of the District Governors of RI in the area comprising India, Burma, Ceylon, Pakistan, and Afghanistan."

1960

The magazine continued to be a one-man job. PDG. Hosali "edited the copy, read the proofs, trimmed the photos, and laid out the pages," which were printed at the Hosali Printing Press.

Though PDG. Hosali did not get much "material" support from the RI Headquarters, the magazine did present a panorama of Rotary activities in South Asia. The circulation was 7,000. There were hardly any advertisements. No wonder the magazine ran into heavy losses.

Rotary News in those days was not an official regional magazine of RI.

Rotary International was pressing Rotary News to be fashioned into an official regional magazine of the movement and serve its communication needs." A committee was set up to take over the magazine from its private owners - the Manipal Group - who had bought it from PDG. Hosali in 1973-74. He, however, continued to edit Rotary News, while the then PDG. Ramesh Pai was the publisher

The legend in an issue of 1973 read: "Regional magazine of Rotary International for Bangladesh, Burma, India, Nepal, Sikkim, Sri Lanka, and Pakistan."

The Rotary News Trust was formed in 1982, and it immediately took over the magazine from the Manipal Group. The first Secretary of the Trust was the then PDG. M.K. Panduranga Setty. A national executive committee was formed to manage the magazine. The committee decided to bring out an identical edition in Hindi to cater to the Hindi-speaking Rotarians, mostly of North India. This was the beginning of the publication of Rotary Samachar.

The first issue was released by RI President Elect William B. Skelton at the Asia Zone-II Institute in Calcutta on January 8 1983. Rtn. George Paul of the Rotary Club of Bangalore looked after the editorial responsibilities of the magazine. In July 1984 RI accorded recognition to Rotary News and Rotary Samachar (Hindi) as the official magazines of this region. PDG. Panduranga Setty took over the editorial and administrative responsibilities from Rtn. George Paul. The two magazines enjoyed a combined circulation of 15,000. In 1988 the two magazines were transferred to Bombay and PDG. Jyotindra Vakil was asked to take over.

PDG Jyotindra Vakil was both the Editor of the two magazines and the Secretary of Rotary News Trust from 1988 to 1990. He put his "heart and soul into improving the reading contents by not only including diverse subjects such as management, environment, medicine, child care, etc, in the optional section, but also by adopting meaningful and creative designs on the cover which had relevance to the lead story of the month”.

Rotary News and Rotary Samachar were once again shifted - this time to Madras, where the issues with new look came out in November 1990. PDG. B. Viswanatha Reddy was the Editor and Publisher of the magazines and Secretary of the Rotary News Trust. The legend under the masthead read: “Regional magazine of RI for India, Nepal, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka.” The number of districts covered rose from 13 to 30.

The first issue printed in Madras in November 1990 had 32 pages. The number of pages slowly rose to 56. The number of pages printed in colour also rose proportionally from 8 to 32. Since 1996, the number of pages has been 64, including 48 pages in multi-colour. From January 1999, almost all pages features are in colour.

During the tenure of office of PDG. Viswanatha Reddi as editor, there was a spurt in the circulation of the magazine each year. In the early 1990s, the monthly circulation of Rotary News was, 13,000 and Rotary Samachar was 2,500. In the late 1990s the figures had risen to 47,650 and 9,800 respectively. At that time there were 57,000 Rotarians in 1,600 clubs - with 60 percent of them subscribing to Rotary News, 10 percent to Rotary Samachar, and 18 percent to the Rotarians. It was presumed that the remaining 12 percent (nearly 7,000 Rotarians) were not subscribing to any of the three magazines. Today a Rotarian must subscribe either to the Rotarian or to the Rotary News / Rotary Samachar.

The emergent need was for someone to take over the organization and the appointment of PDG Krishnan V. Chari as the Secretary of the Rotary News Trust and Editor of the twin magazines, in Ocotober 1998, became a turning point. PDG Chari quickly identified the most cost-effective printing facility and a team for looking after administrative and publishing responsibilities. Similtaneously, the Trustees under the chairman ship of then DG Madhura Chatrapathy resolved to revise the subscription in keeping with comparative rates of similar publication. Thereafter Rotary News and Rotary Samachar have been on the growth path.

From October 2005 the affairs of Rotary News is looked after by PDG R. Benjamin Cherian as the Secretry of the Trust and Rtn. T.K. Balakrishnan as the Editor. The magazine has shown tremendous improvement in layout, content and design. R. I. President, the Board of Directors, Trustees of TRF, and the International Editors of Rotary World Magazines Press have acclaimed the Rotary News as one of the best regional magazines now.

Rotary News trust has its own beautiful office - one entire floor of a building with 6600 sq ft in the heart of the city which was purchased three years back at a cost of Rs. 1.5 crores. They have provided a computer for the visiting Rotarians to browse the internet and also have a library of Rotary magazine and catalogues. They have exclusive conference room and board rooms which are used by the Clubs and the committee meetings of Rotary Clubs and the District at a nominal cost. For the year 2006-07, DG. JB. Rambar of R.I. Dt. 3230 is the chairman of the Rotary News Trust.

RI President : Rtn. FRANK J DEVLYN

The world is a huge orchestra in which each one of us has his own little insignificant part of play. The success of your instrument and mine depends not upon the amount of noise they make, but upon how perfectly they harmonize with the instruments about us; and he who, sufficient unto himself, insists upon blowing his own horn in his big and pompous way, finds himself not only a maker of discords, but also persona non grata to all the rest of the band. If Rotary can bring home to us fuller realization of the fact that we are not individual performers, but rather small parts of a stupendous entity, not only will our lives harmonize better with the lives of those around us, but we will also find them easier and better worth living.

INTERNATIONAL UNDERSTANDING

Advancing world understanding and peace, which is expressed in the fourth part of the Object of Rotary, is an important focus of Rotarian service. It is the impetus for numerous service efforts and other cooperative ventures among Rotarians from different parts of the world. It is the reason Rotary International has a long-standing, close collaboration with the United Nations and many of its member agencies. Appropriately, every year the anniversary of the founding of Rotary, 23 February, is celebrated as World Understanding and Peace Day.
